

LUNCHES FOR

Learning

Breaking the cycle of poverty in rural Honduras.

A KITCHEN BUILDING PROJECT . . .

Lunches for Learning helps improve meal preparation efficiency for one community

POLICAROP PAZ GARCIA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Children walk for over an hour to go to school. Because of the remote location and the difficult topography, preparing and delivering lunch is an additional hardship on the families who support the L4L program, though they never complain. An on-site kitchen is the answer....

85 students attend this remote rural school where Anabel Lazo is the Principal

A JOINT EFFORT WITH LOCAL HONDURANS

A local politician,
Governor
Velosquez and L4L agree to split
the cost of a kitchen...

MEETING WITH PARENTS

The parents of the school children agree to provide rocks, sand and labor...

L4L, PARENTS & THE GOVERNOR COMBINE RESOURCES!

The kitchen arrangements are finished, now the work must begin...

LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

The kitchen location is established...

GATHERING SAND AND ROCKS BEGINS

Parents can't go to the local building supply store like in the United States so they must locate the necessary foundation resources themselves. Here they quarry the river for rocks and sand that will be used in the building foundation.

A DEDICATED GROUP OF PARENTS

The importance of a kitchen is demonstrated by the efforts of the parents...

DELIVERY OF THE BUILDING MATERIALS

Foundation rocks and concrete sand is delivered to the kitchen site

GATHERING MORE SUPPLIES AND MATERIALS

Lunches for Learning's District Supervisor, Fernando, gathers more building supplies.

FOUNDATION WORK BEGINS

Parents digging the kitchen foundation...

KITCHEN CONSTRUCTION

Walls start going up...

KITCHEN CONSTRUCTION

KITCHEN CONSTRUCTION

KITCHEN CONSTRUCTION

KITCHEN CONSTRUCTION

WALLS ARE FINISHED

ROOF CONSTRUCTION

ROOF CONSTRUCTION

ROOF CONSTRUCTION

ROOF CONSTRUCTION

ROOF CONSTRUCTION

This is a community effort and. As you can see by going through these brief snapshots of the kitchen building process , all of the community is involved.

LAYING THE FLOOR

Parents are preparing to pour the floor concrete.

As of this website update, this is the status of the Kitchen Project. Pictures of a completed Kitchen will be posted when available.